IMMENSE SEA TURTLE CAPTURED LAST NIGHT

ONE WEIGHING PROBABLY ONE THOUSAND POUNDS CAUGHT ON SANTA ROSA ISLAND BY A PARTY OF PENSACOLIANS.

Probably the largest sea turtle ever brought to the city, or captured in this section, was seen last night, when a party of Pensacolians returned from an outing on Santa Rosa island. The turtle will probably weigh one thousand pounds, and is the biggest specimen ever seen in Pensacola.

The party which made the capture of the immense turtle was composed of Ed. Dunham, Capt. Joe Fish and Dr. Fordham. They went over to the life saving station on Captain Jacobson's yacht Stella and had no idea of making such a catch. While on the outside beach they were told by one of the life saving crew that an immense turtle had been seen several times on the beach near the station. They consequently began to look around for the turtle and within the course of half an hour sighted an object on the beach, which later proved to be the monster for which they were searching. The gentlemen waited until the turtle had gone well upon the beach and had begun to lay its eggs, when they rushed up, and succeeded in turning it upon its back.

Afterwards ropes were secured and the flippers so tied that no one could be injured. Half a dozen men were needed to place the turtle upon the boat, and an equally large number, with the aid of block and tackle to unload it upon reaching the wharf.

The big fellow was placed on the wharf in the rear of Ed. Dunham's place on South Palafox street, where it was viewed by a large number of persons last night.

Turtles weighing as much as four hundred pounds have heretofore been caught on the outside beach, but the one captured last night is the largest ever known to have been caught in this section.

The turtle will be killed to-day by Mr. Dunham, and the meat divided up among those who composed the party making the capture.

NEGRO MURDERER ARRESTED AT LAST.

Tampa, May 26.—Sheriff Perry of St. John's county came here yesterday en route to St. Augustine, taking with him Andrew Jackson, a negro, who murdered his wife by slashing her with a razor in the Ancient City five years ago, and who has been evading arrest by skipping about the state from place to place, under various assumed names. Some weeks ago Deputy Sheriff R. C. Jackson of this county got information that the negro was in this vicinity, and after diligent search the deputy found him in the scrub suburbs of this city and placed him under arrest, confining him in the Hillsborough county jail, until the arrival of Sheriff Perry yesterday. On the way to the depot, just before the departure for St. Augustine, Jackson confessed that he was the negro that did the murder, though Sheriff Perry had already positively identified him as the man wanted, by scars on his back. After five years' hiding from the law officers, he will now pay the penalty for his crime.

BIG MEETING OF MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

and the effect, with the enormous profits derived, of decreasing the rate of taxation. This, too, he said, had been accomplished, after a most disastrous conflagration of only a few years ago.

He said the best of physicians is the one who can tell the patient what is the matter and the remedy for the illness. Mr. Bliss, said the speaker, has done both, and it is up to the citizens to apply the prescribed remedy.

The speaker, continuing, said the city needed its own waterworks for the reason that the people did not care to go bankrupt when they took a bath or allowed their bath tub to run over and spill a few pints of water. Municipal ownership is also needed, he said, for the reason that it would not then be necessary to use a telescope to find a gas light.

There was loud applause when he concluded.

E. K. Smith, of Texas, who recently located here, delivered an excellent address, in which he told of the advantages of municipal ownership and the thriving of those cities which had adopted this plan. Taxation had been reduced and the cities where such government existed, had prospered greatly. He said that Pensacola possessed every advantage and all that was necessary was to reach out and grasp those opportunities offered. He was loudly applauded.

Jas. McHugh was the last speaker. Great applause was heard when the name of the popular alderman from precinct 14 was announced. He delivered only a short address, but it was one of those which took well with the crowd, as it went direct to the point. The fact that much good would be derived by the city of Pensacola should it own its own public utilities, was felt upon by Mr. McHugh, and he proved to the satisfaction of the large crowd where other cities had benefited by the same, and Pensacola could do the same.

The enthusiasm and cheering was immense when Mr. McHugh concluded.

CROPS MUCH DAMAGED BY SEVERE WIND STORM.

Eola, La., May 26.—A severe electrical and wind storm, accompanied by a hard rain, struck this section of Avoyelles parish yesterday. The corn crop was in many places damaged considerably, and also the fruit crop, which is unusually small this season. Fences and trees were blown down on Bayou Clear, three miles east of here. The cotton crop is in a serious condition, and the average is considered 50 per cent at the maximum.

The second cutting of alfalfa is considered a complete loss.

Bayou Bout is very high and still continues to rise, and the roads between here and Whiteville are impassable. The merchants report that business is the worst ever seen, and the saw mills are experiencing great trouble in the hauling and shipping of lumber.

Musical Fish of Ceylon.

Every bay and inlet on the coast of Ceylon abounds with musical fish. Their song, if it can be called a song, is not one sustained note like a bird's, but a multitude of tiny, soft, sweet sounds, each clear and distinct in itself, something like the vibrations of a wineglass when its rim is rubbed with the moistened finger. In the harbor at Bombay, India, there is a fish with a song like the sound produced by an aeolian harp.

MEAD WILSON RETURNS HOME

AFTER ATTENDING THE ANNUAL SESSION OF THE O. R. C. AT PORTLAND, OREGON.

Conductor E. M. Wilson, of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, who accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, attended the annual convention of the Order of Railway Conductors, has returned home. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have been absent from the city for about two weeks, and spent a most enjoyable time.

The meeting, according to Mr. Wilson, was a most enjoyable one, and much business was transacted for the good of the order. In fact it was one of the most largely attended and business-like sessions held for a number of years, and will be productive of much good to those composing the order.

The delegates were much pleased with the hospitality extended them by the citizens of Portland, who did everything possible to make their stay a pleasant one.

TOBACCO SMOKE.

The Reason That Some of It Is Blue and Some Gray.

Smoke consists of minute particles of solid or liquid matter suspended in the air, and its color depends partly upon the chemical constitution of such particles, but also largely upon their size. Exact experiment has shown that, as the size of minute particles suspended in air is gradually increased, they give rise to colors varying from sky blue down through the whole range of the spectral scale. This is the cause of sunset and sunrise colors in the sky. Its effects can also be traced in the case of the two kinds of tobacco smoke, modified by the murky tints of the carbonaceous products. The smoke given off from the heated surface of the burning tobacco in the bowl of the pipe consists of matter all of which has been highly heated and very fully oxidized and decomposed. It consists mainly of exceedingly small, solid particles, exhibiting by virtue of their smallness a bluish color. On the other hand, that smoke which has been drawn through the tobacco into the mouth of the smoker carries with it a relatively large quantity of water and hydrocarbon, which are condensed upon the solid particles above mentioned. The relatively large size of such particles explains the well known grayish color of the smoke which issues from the mouth of the smoker.

GREEK SUPERSTITIONS.

Some of the Old Mythological Beliefs Still Prevail.

"Some of the superstitions of the old mythologic religion still prevail among the peasant classes in Greece," said a native of that country. "Nor are the educated classes without such beliefs, such as that harm ensues from looking at the moon over the right shoulder. The belief in the three fates, the evil eye, the vampires and the necivels is general. Dressed in black and appearing as old women, the fates are supposed to come down from Olympus three days after the birth of a child and to hold a meeting to determine its fate. Consequently a table containing many dainties is set out for their invisible enjoyment. Especial care is taken lest the old ladies be enraged at not having enough good things to eat."

"No woman desires to be left alone after her child is born, believing that the ugly old women may become jealous and wreak some awful vengeance. Smut is therefore smeared on the faces of the youngsters so that this jealousy may not become excited."

"The young Athenian women frequently go to the ancient tombs near Athens and, calling upon the fates, beg them to reveal the identity of their future husbands, singing, 'From the top of Olympus, where are the fates, where is my own fate?'"—Washington Post.
